Description of Some Key Existing County Water Quality Activities Related to Stormwater

Waste Management Public Education and Outreach. Waste management planning and education are delegated by the County to the Integrated Waste Management Authority (IWMA). All of the members of the County Board of Supervisors sit on the IWMA Board. The IWMA governs a wide range of waste-related issues. IWMA provides educational resources in print and on its website, attends fairs and other events to promote waste reduction and has authorized used oil recycling at the curb. The IWMA is responsible for strategies leading to the 50% source reduction and recycling equivalent that has been achieved on a countywide regional basis.
